

Make high team efficiency a standard for the company

What is Team Performance Indicator and where do we use it?

Team Performance Indicator compares the current situation of the team based on the preset success factors with the desired future situation. The instrument shows how the leader and the team are perceived in relation to the five main success factors.

How does it work?

Team Performance Indicator measures 5 pre-set success factors of "highly effective teams". The tool allows for two feedback surveys - preliminary and follow-up - within a given period. TPI enables continuous team improvement. In teams where constant improvement is the norm, there is an increase in productivity, and a decrease in error and waste.

Challenges for the organization, team leaders and the employees

Challenge	Our solution
Difference in the effectiveness of teams whose origins may be unclear	Reports which present the views of team members on the basic elements of effectiveness
An environment in which there is a lack of trust	Opportunity for everyone to give feedback on the weaknesses in the team
Fear of conflict - the emergence or existence of such	Early identification of problem areas that are a potential source of conflict
Lack of commitment to the ultimate goal of the team	An instrument that allows you to open a discussion about engagement and improve it as a result
